| Description: | I went under Service Menu>LinHES Configuration>Advanced Settings and enabled "Windows sharing" both "share media" and "share home." After about 5 min, I got dropped back to the Service Menu, but as far as I can tell, samba did not start. When I manually attempted to start it, I got the following errors: <pre><code># /etc/rc.d/samba restart :: Stopping Samba Server [DONE] :: Starting Samba Server [BUSY] /usr/sbin/smbd: error while loading shared libraries: libhx509.so.3: cannot open shared object file: No such file or directory /usr/sbin/nmbd: error while loading shared libraries: libhx509.so.3: cannot open shared object file: No such file or directory</code></pre> | | |
